interest of the Pitorin's Progress, and on the Life and Times of John Bunyan. By Rev. George B. Cher. vez. New York: Wiley and Putnam.

These Lectures have already been favorably noriced in our columns. They are the productions of Goethe. He is in mourning for a lovely sister, a man of genius and learning, a bold and vigorous minker, and a perspicuous and eloquent writer. They attracted great attention in this city when the author read them to his own congregation, and were sought for with avidity by thousands as they were accessively issued from the press. They are all now combined in a volume which, by its elegant the loan at once. Owing to the tavorable terms of payment of the loan at once. Owing to the tavorable terms of the loan at once. en prominence to his own peculiar views of religions truth. But of this no one has a right to comits greatest value, if the author had attempted to as the sentiments and feelings which pertain to his own faith, from a mistaken desire to please those ame will render it popular and appropriate as a Christmas and New-Year's Present, and command for it now and for a long time to come an extensive eleculation among those of the author's religious Fashions change, says the Editor of this elegant little volume; and of late Christmas Trees are be coming more common than in former times. The practice of hanging up stockings in the chimney correr for Kriss Kringle to fill with toys, pretty books, bon-bons, &c. for good children, and rods for paughty children, is being superseded by that of placing a Christmas Tree on the table to await the annual visit of the worthy Santa Klaus. He has, with his usual good nature, accommodated himself to this change in the popular taste; and, having de sired a literary gentleman to prepare his favorite Christmens present in accordance with this state of things, this beautiful volume is the result of the new arrangement, and all parents, guardians, uncles, aunts and cousins, who are desirous to conform to the most approved fashion, will take care to hang one, two, or a dozen copies of the book on their Christmas Tree for 1845.

NEW-YORK LEGAL REFERENCE TABLE.-We beg to direct the attention of our legal friends to a Tabular Synopsis of Rules, &c. of our State Courts, vet full of dignity. Here, no artist has come prepared with grent care by GEORGE WOODMAN, Esq. of this City, and published by Halsted in Nassau street. It gives a full statement of all the Court terms, periods of holding the same, and a great quantity of practical information of importance to the Lawyer-the whole arranged so as to be seen at a glance. It cannot fail to be very useful in every Lawyer's office where business is done.

AMERICAN ELASTIC SUSPENDERS AND WEB-BING.—The surprising perfection attained by the late improvements of the subscriber in compounding India Rubber and adequiting it to the manufacture of Elastic Webbing, by the sid of his new machinery warrants him in saying that the Suspenders now offered for sale by him are the best ever made. Among the advantages he claims in his mode of manufacture over that of Mr. Goodforer, is freedom from the surphivous medi so inseparable from G. 1. The peculiar and exclusive property of retaining their elasticity, and the grand exclusive property of retaining their elasticity, and the grand a common complexity and additional bulk or weight, G. 1 suspenders that they loss their elasticity after being wom a short time.
